

AJCU-AP SLP 2011 Theme

Education for Environmental Stewardship: A Model towards Reconciliation with Creation

Survival Kit:

1. Light clothing
2. Comfortable shoes
3. Working clothes
4. Sun block
5. Insect repellent
6. Umbrella/Hat
7. Light Jacket
8. Flashlight
9. Toiletries
10. Travel medications

Presentation Needs:

1. Audio Visual/Visual presentation about your university or college.
2. A cultural presentation, preferably in cultural attire either by per university or per country delegation.

Ateneo de Davao University
Social Involvement Coordinating Office
E. Jacinto Street, Davao City, 8000, Philippines
Http://www.addu.edu.ph, email: sico@addu.edu.ph

SLP 2011

Ateneo de Davao University Hosts:

AJCU-AP Service Learning Program

August 7-27, 2011

Davao City, Philippines

Application Process

Each participating college/university is advised to:

Step 1

Promote the AJCU AP Service Learning Program to its respective academic community. Open recruitment to all interested students.

Step 2

Select a maximum of ten (10) outstanding students and at least one (1) faculty to participate in the program.

Step 3

Orient participants regarding the overall program concept and design, program expectations, travel requirements, and

Step 4

Register all participants by sending through electronic or snail mail the accomplished institutional reply form and participant application forms to the address below on or before 15 April 2011.

Step 5

Collect the registration fee of $650.00 per participant and deposit the total amount according to total number of institutional participation on or before 15 April 2011.

Transfer Fund information for dollar proceeds

Account no: 01-417-300160-9

Account Name: Ateneo de Davao University

United Coconut Planters Bank-Palma Gil Branch,

Palma Gil and C.M. Recto St., Davao City, 8000 Philippines

Swift address: ucpbphmm email : palmagil@ucpb.com

Routing number: 03029-003-9

Program at a glance

Program Orientation and Welcome

The participants will be given the chance to be acquainted with the participating universities and colleges programs and students. A welcome dinner reception awaits the participants of this year's AJCU-AP Service Learning Program.

First Phase Exposure and Volunteering

The participants will be introduced to NGOs working for integrative and holistic Indigenous education with focus on cultural integrity and environment valuing, among others. Participants will be given an opportunity to participate in their work as volunteers.

Cultural Event

The AJCU-AP SLP 2011 is very timely since it's schedule falls on the Kadayawan Festival, a celebration of natural bounty. The participants will be able to witness the festivities of street dance and floral and fruit parade.

Second Phase Exposure and Volunteering

The environment conservation prime movers will introduce their programs to the participants. The latter will be given the opportunity to share in the significant work of these institutions.

Reflection and Send-off

The participants will have the opportunity to reflect upon their insights gained from the program. The program will be capped with a send-off activity.